

The Last 24

Everything that happened in Technology

on Wednesday, 24 June 2026

Flip through to read more →

● TECHNOLOGY

Couple returns after 15 years in the US to build startups in Bengaluru

A couple who spent 15 years working in the United States have returned to India to build startups in Bengaluru, joining a

● TECHNOLOGY

SEBI's 'GARUDA' framework eases key bottlenecks for Indian startup investors

The Securities and Exchange Board of India has introduced the 'GARUDA' framework, designed to ease critical

TECHNOLOGY

Tech-related hiring in India at all-time low, software engineers hit hardest: Study

Tech hiring in India has fallen to an all-time low, with software engineers bearing the brunt of the downturn, according to a

● TECHNOLOGY

India's MoEngage bets the future of marketing is millions of AI agents

Bengaluru-based marketing technology company MoEngage is pivoting its platform around the idea that the future of

The Last 24

The full brief, every day:

thelast24.in

Everything that mattered in India,
in five minutes.

