

The Last 24

Everything that happened in Technology

on Saturday, 20 June 2026

Flip through to read more →

● TECHNOLOGY ● BREAKING

Jio files for India's biggest-ever IPO, likely to raise ₹35,000-₹40,000 crore

Reliance Jio has filed for what is set to be India's largest-ever initial public offering, with the share sale expected to raise

● TECHNOLOGY

Bengaluru makes global top startup hubs list, cementing India's tech ambitions

Bengaluru, widely dubbed India's Silicon Valley, has been recognised on a global ranking of top startup hubs, affirming

● TECHNOLOGY

PM Modi: AI must mean 'All Inclusive'; technology only progresses when democratised

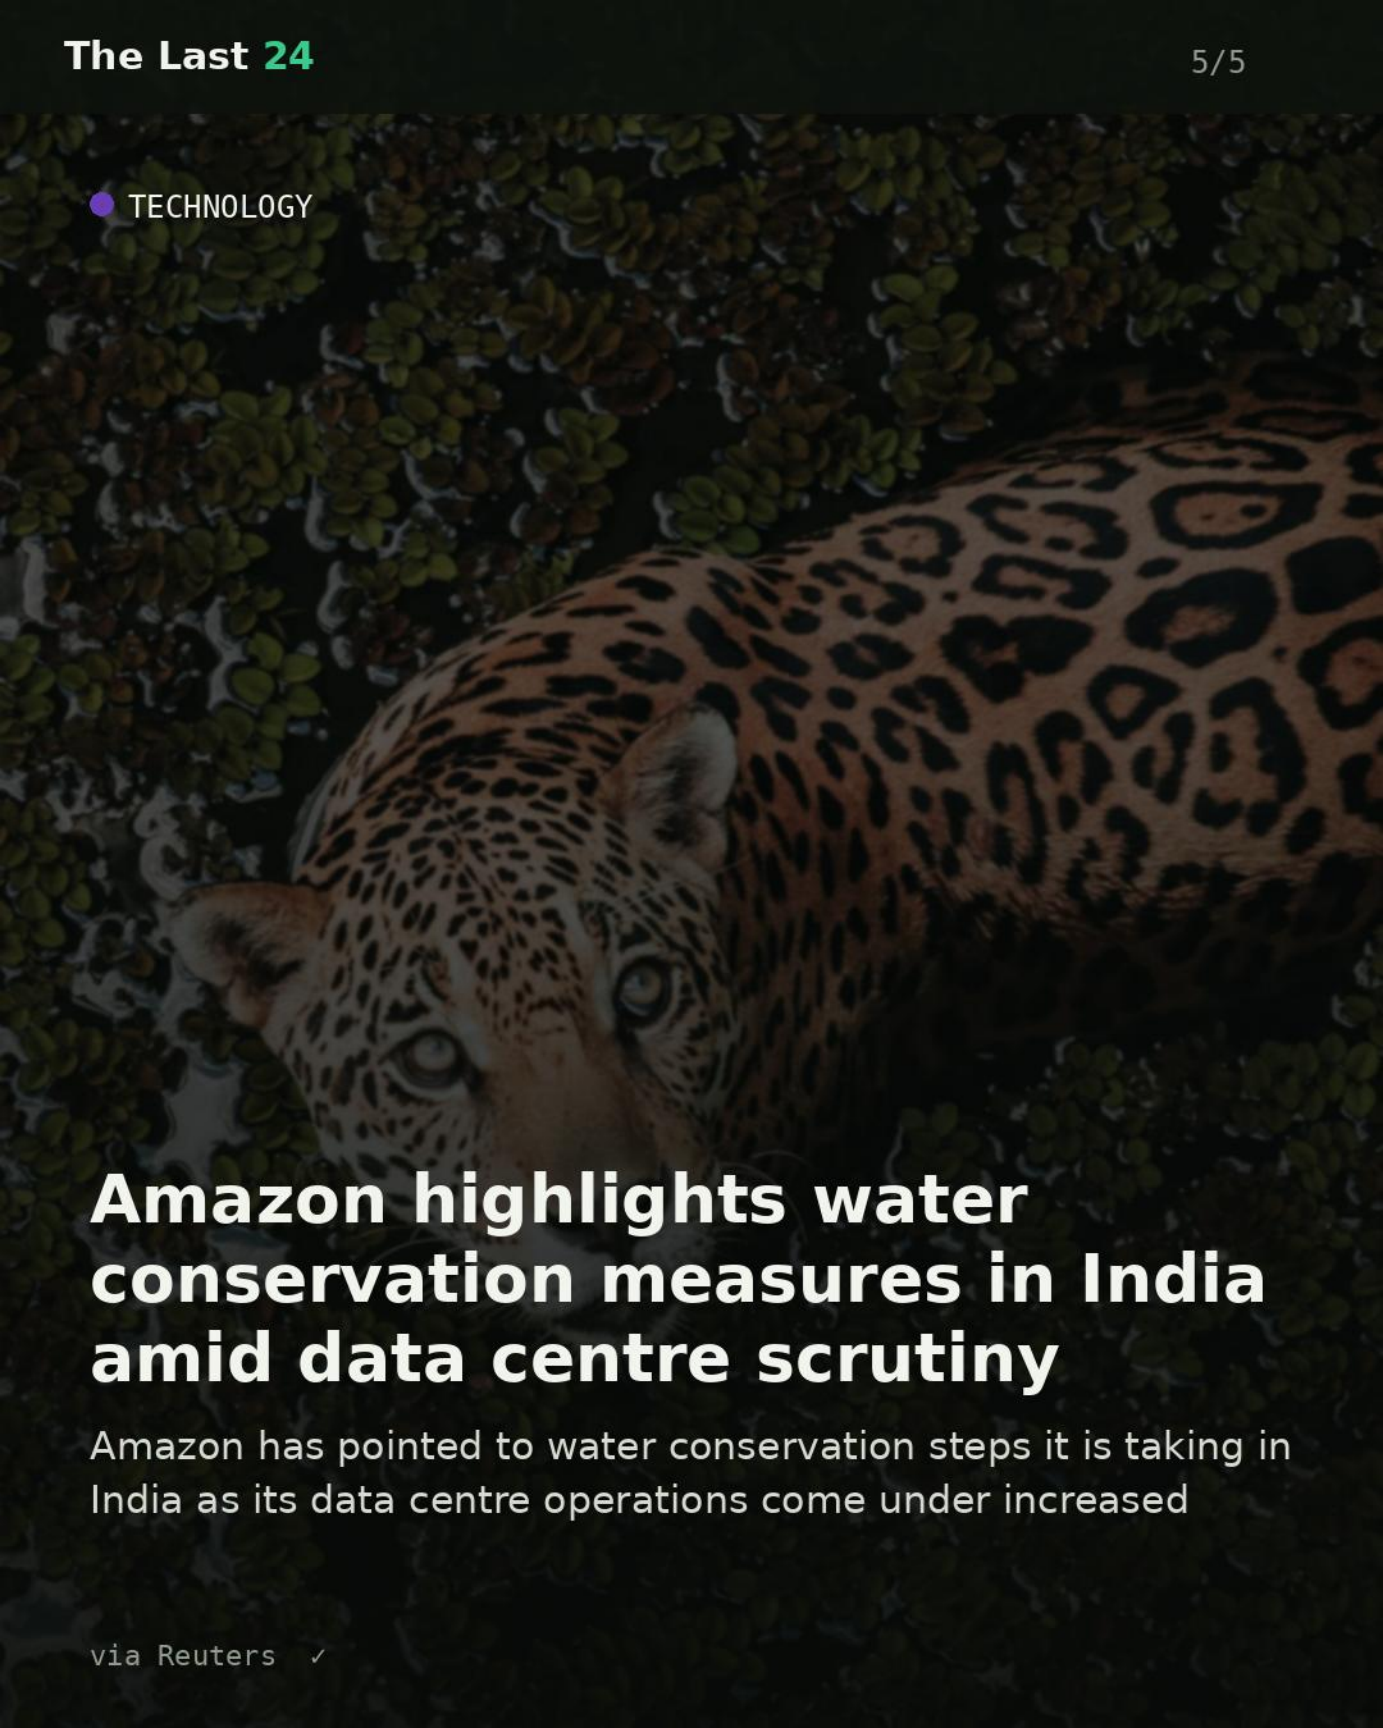

Prime Minister Narendra Modi declared that for India, AI should stand for 'All Inclusive' rather than just Artificial

● TECHNOLOGY

PM Modi at VivaTech 2026: 'For India, AI Means All Inclusive'

Prime Minister Narendra Modi addressed VivaTech 2026 in Paris, arguing that technology can drive progress only when it

● TECHNOLOGY

A leopard with a distinctive orange and black spotted coat is lying down in a dense thicket of green foliage. The leopard's head is turned towards the viewer, and its eyes are visible. The background is filled with various shades of green leaves and branches, creating a textured and natural setting.

Amazon highlights water conservation measures in India amid data centre scrutiny

Amazon has pointed to water conservation steps it is taking in India as its data centre operations come under increased

The Last 24

The full brief, every day:

thelast24.in

Everything that mattered in India, in five minutes.

